ABSTRACT

This report outlines amendments to the National School Lunch Act (NSLA) to improve the nutritional well-being of children under the age of 6 living in homeless shelters, and for other purposes. These amendments: (1) modify the homeless children feeding project authorized by the NSLA so that greater program flexibility is provided and more grantees are allowed to participate in the program; (2) authorize the Secretary of Agriculture to solicit and accept private gifts to establish a program to promote breastfeeding; (3) make a clarifying change regarding for-profit child care center eligibility in the Child and Adult Care Food Program and reauthorize a demonstration program that determines a for-profit center's eligibility in the program; (4) modify the definition of "nutritional risk" in the Special Supplemental Food Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC); and (5) reauthorize a demonstration program under the NSLA which enabled 60 school districts to receive cash payments or letters of credit in lieu of entitlement commodities. The report describes committee action on the proposed amendments, provides background information on the legislation, and reprints the text of the amendments. (MDM)

Amend the title so as to read:

An Act to amend the National School Lunch Act and the Child Nutrition Act of 1966 to improve certain nutrition programs, to improve the nutritional health of children, and for other purposes.

EXPLANATION OF THE AMENDMENT

The Committee amendment strikes all after the enacting clause and inserts a substitute text. The provisions of the substitute text are explained hereafter in this report.

INTRODUCTION

In reporting S. 2759 as amended, the Committee proposes to: amend the homeless children feeding project authorized by the National School Lunch Act to provide program flexibility and allow more grantees to participate in the program; authorize the Secretary of Agriculture to solicit and accept private gifts to establish a breastfeeding promotion program; make a clarifying change regarding for-profit child care center eligibility in the Child and Adult Care Food Program and reauthorize a demonstration program examining a different method of determining such a center's eligibility in the program; amend the definition of "nutritional risk" in the Special Supplemental Food Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC); and reauthorize a demonstration program under the National School Lunch Act which enabled 60 school districts to receive an alternative to their commodity reimbursement entitlement.

COMMITTEE ACTION

S. 2759 was passed by the Senate on May 20, 1992, and was referred to the Committee on Education and Labor. S. 2759 was considered by the full Committee on Education and Labor on June 10, 1992. Mr. Kildee, Chairman of the Subcommittee on Elementary, Secondary, and Vocational Education, offered an amendment in the nature of a substitute to S. 2759 which incorporated the provisions of S. 2760, The Child Nutrition Improvements Act of 1992, and H.R. 2933, a bill to reauthorize a school lunch demonstration program which Mr. Kildee had introduced with Chairman Ford and Mr. Goodling. The amendment was adopted, and the bill was ordered reported, as amended, by a roll call vote of 39 to 0.

BACKGROUND AND NEED FOR LEGISLATION

Homeless children living in temporary shelters often have limited access to an adequate and healthy diet. The Federal child nutrition programs, while designed to help meet the nutritional needs of children from low income families, do not, in fact, reach many children in homeless shelters. This is especially true for children under the age of 6, or preschool age children, because they do not have access to the meals offered through school food programs.

While the Summer Food Program can partially meet the nutritional needs of young homeless children during the summer months, these children are deprived of assistance during the rest of the year. The lack of an adequate diet can make these children vulnerable to disease and illness.

For these reasons, the Child Nutrition and WIC Amendments of 1989 (Public Law 101-147) established a demonstration project to provide year-round food service to homeless children under age 6 in emergency shelters. Under the child nutrition homeless demonstration, the Secretary entered into agreements with private non-profit organizations to conduct the project at emergency homeless shelters.

The Committee has been very encouraged by the success of the project thus far, and expects that the amendments to the program contained in S. 2759, as amended, will improve program flexibility. These amendments will enable the project, during its remaining 2 years, to better determine the most effective method for delivering meals to homeless children living in shelters.

Title II of S. 2759, as amended, authorizes the Secretary to solicit and accept gifts, bequests, and devises of services and property to establish a breastfeeding promotion program designed to educate the public concerning the fact that breastfeeding is the best method of infant nutrition.

Breastfeeding benefits both the physical and emotional health of infants as well as their mothers. The benefits for infants include protection from ear infections, diarrhea, and respiratory illnesses through the immunologic properties of breastmilk. Breastmilk is also the most complete and most easily digestible source of nutrition for infants.

The Surgeon General, Antonia Novello, as well as the leaders of the major health professional organizations have endorsed breastfeeding as the preferred method of infant feeding. However, despite these advantages, in 1988 only 54 percent of U.S. mothers in the general population were breastfeeding at hospital discharge, and only 21 percent were breastfeeding when their babies were five to six months of age.

One of the main barriers to breastfeeding is that it is often misunderstood. The media and education activities authorized by this program would help foster a more positive and encouraging attitude toward breastfeeding, and would heighten the awareness of health providers, employers, educators, policymakers, and community groups concerning methods for encouraging breastfeeding.

The 1989 reauthorization of the Child and Adult Care Food Program included a provision designed to test an alternative method for enabling for-profit child care centers to participate in the program (Public Law 101-147, section 105(b)(4)). Under current practices, such a center is eligible to participate in the program if 25 percent of the children attending the center are low income and receive child care assistance under Title XX of the Social Security Act. In contrast, this demonstration project allows centers in Kentucky and Iowa to participate if 25 percent of the children qualify for free or reduced price lunch under the National School Lunch Act (family incomes are below 185 percent of poverty).

Given the new sources of child care funding made available to low income families over the last few years through the Child Care Block Grant Act and the JOBS program, the committee is aware that using the receipt of Title XX Social Security assistance as the only criterion for eligibility would in effect make some for-profit centers ineligible even though they serve a large percentage of low income children. S. 2759 reauthorizes this demonstration through 1994, at which time the issue and the results of the demonstration will be examined in the context of the Child and Adult Care Food Program reauthorization.

The bill, as amended, also clarifies that in determining eligibility, a for-profit center's licensed capacity or enrollment figure is used, whichever is less, in order to avoid counting part-time children disproportionately.

Title III of S. 2759, as amended, reauthorizes the pilot program under the National School Lunch Act which authorized 60 school districts to receive cash payments or commodity letters of credit (CLOC) in lieu of entitlement commodities for their school lunch programs. The participating school districts were test sites in a congressionally mandated pilot project to study the effects of alternative commodity distribution systems on school lunch programs and agricultural markets. The study took place during the school years 1981-82 through 1984-85, and findings issued by the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) in 1985 and 1986 offered inconclusive evidence about whether the cash/CLOC alternatives provided more nutritious foods, more efficiently and at lower cost, for school lunch program operators than the existing USDA commodity distribution system.

Continued use of alternative systems by the test schools beyond the study period was first authorized in the 1985 omnibus farm bill (Public Law 99-198), and twice extended, under the Commodity Distribution Reform Act and WIC Amendments of 1987 (Public Law 100-237) and the Child Nutrition and WIC Reauthorization Act of 1989 (Public Law 101-147). In response to criticisms of some elements of the CLOC alternative, the 1989 reauthorization authorized the Secretary to design and test modifications to the program which were implemented in school year 1990/91. In March of 1992, USDA issued an evaluation of the effects of these modifications in the "Commodity Letter of Credit Modification Demonstration Evaluation." The study states that:

Overall, the findings indicate that a number of the major differences in the performance of CLOC and commodity school food authorities found in the previous study and that were the focus of the CLOC modifications have been narrowed or eliminated. Furthermore, the principal attractions of CLOC were found to have been largely unaffected by these modifications.

Based on these results and the positive experiences of the schools participating in the program, the Committee proposes a two year extension, during which the program will be thoroughly reviewed in the context of the reauthorization of the school lunch program.

In order to more accurately test the CLOC alternative to commodities, the Committee directs the Secretary to increase the number of school districts receiving commodity letters of credit under the modified program from the current 25 to 30, the number of sites that originally participated in the program. Specifically, the Committee directs the Secretary to add four small school districts with enrollments at or below the 1,000 student level and one large school district in Grand Rapids, Michigan to the modified CLOC program in order to establish a more representative sample and therefore gather more accurate data concerning the advantages and disadvantages of this program. Such an increase would address the observations made in the March 1992 evaluation of the project regarding "Sample Size and Representatives."

EXPLANATION OF THE BILL

SHORT TITLE

The short title of S. 2759, as amended, is the "Child Nutrition Amendments of 1992."

NUTRITION IMPROVEMENT FOR HOMELESS CHILDREN

Title I amends the homeless children feeding demonstration provisions of the National School Lunch Act. Under current law, only private non-profit sponsors are eligible grantees. The amendment will allow State and local governments to apply for grants. It also will allow more grantees to participate by increasing the minimum funding levels of $350,000 for fiscal year 1991 and 1992, to $650,000 for fiscal year 1993, and $800,000 for fiscal year 1994. The amendment also improves program flexibility by allowing projects to receive reimbursement for meals served on weekends and holidays and by allowing the Secretary to modify the meal pattern requirements to take into account the needs of infants.

BREAST FEEDING PROMOTION

Section 201 authorizes the Secretary to solicit and accept gifts, bequests, and devises of services and property to establish a breast feeding promotion program to conduct a national campaign and educational program on breast feeding. Activities under the program may include: developing educational and promotional materials; distributing such materials; and providing funds to the appropriate entities to assist in the distribution of breast pumps and similar equipment to breast feeding women.

CHILD AND ADULT CARE FOOD PROGRAM

Sections 202 and 203 amend the Child and Adult Care Food Program concerning the participation of for-profit child care centers in the program. Under current law, such a center is eligible to participate in the program if 25 percent of the children attending are receiving assistance under Title XX of the Social Security Act. Section 202 clarifies that, in determining eligibility, if a center's licensed capacity is less than its total enrollment due to part-time children, the licensed capacity figure is used rather than enrollment. This ensures that part-time children do not count disproportionately.

Section 203 reauthorizes a demonstration project under the program which allows for-profit centers in Kentucky and Iowa to participate if 25 percent of the children qualify for free or reduced price lunch under the National School Lunch Act.

NUTRITIONAL RISK UNDER WIC

Section 204 amends the definition of nutritional risk used to determine WIC eligibility to include "homelessness", and "migrancy." This amendment was recommended in the 1992 Biennial Report on WIC issued by USDA and submitted by the National Advisory Council on Maternal, Infant, and Fetal Nutrition in response to the fact that families, and therefore women and children, constitute the fastest growing segment of the homeless population nationwide. Evidence of increased risk of malnutrition among homeless children and increased risk of low birthweights for infants born to homeless women is well documented.

At the same time, housing is the number one need of migrant workers, and lack of housing predisposes migrants to all of the risk factors identified for the homeless. Migrants also experience difficulty in accessing proper nutrition and health care due to the fact that they are often working in rural areas and lack transportation allowing them to purchase more nutritional foods or access health care, which can be particularly important for migrant mothers due to the type of labor they perform and their possible exposure to elements in their environment which could prove harmful to their child, born or unborn.

CASH/CLOC REAUTHORIZATION

S. 2759, as amended, reauthorizes the pilot program under the National School Lunch Act which authorized 60 school districts to receive cash payments or commodity letters of credit (CLOC) in lieu of entitlement commodities for their school lunch programs through 1994. The amendment makes no other changes regarding the operation of the program.

COMMITTEE APPROVAL

In compliance with clause 2(1)(2)(B) of rule XI of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Committee states that on June 20, 1992 a quorum being present, the Committee favorably ordered reported S. 2759 by roll call vote of 39 to 0.

OVERSIGHT STATEMENT

In compliance with clause 2(1)(3)(A), of rule XI of the Rules of the House of Representatives, this report embodies the findings and recommendations of the Subcommittee on Elementary, Secondary, and Vocational Education, established pursuant to clause 2(b)(1) of Rule of X of the House of Representatives and Rule 18(a) of the Rules of the Committee on Education and Labor. Pursuant to its responsibilities, the Committee has determined that legislation should be enacted as set forth in S. 2759, as amended.

INFLATIONARY IMPACT STATEMENT

In compliance with clause 2(1)(4) of rule XI of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Committee estimates that the enactment into law of S. 2759 will have little inflationary impact on prices and costs in the operation of the national economy. It is the judgement of the Committee that the inflationary impact of this legislation as a component of the Federal budget is negligible.

OVERSIGHT FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE COMMITTEE ON GOVERNMENT OPERATIONS

In compliance with clause 2(1)(3)(D) of rule XI of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Committee states that no findings or recommendations of the Committee on Government Operations were submitted to the Committee.

COST OF THIS LEGISLATION

CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE ESTIMATE

In compliance with clause 2(1)(3) (B) and (C) of rule XI of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the estimate prepared by the Congressional Budget Office pursuant to section 403 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974, submitted prior to the filing of this report, is set forth as follows:

U.S. CONGRESS,
CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE,
Washington, DC, June 22, 1992.

Hon. WILLIAM D. FORD,
Chairman, Committee on Education and Labor,
House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. CHAIRMAN: The Congressional Budget Office has prepared the enclosed cost estimate of S. 2759, the Homeless Children Nutrition Improvement Act, as ordered reported by the House Committee on Education and Labor on June 10, 1992. This bill would create a new breast-feeding promotion program and would extend and expand certain child nutrition demonstration projects. Enactment of this legislation would result in direct spending and could affect receipts and would be subject to pay-as-you-go procedures under section 252 of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985. As a result, the estimate required under clause 8 of the House Rule XXI is attached.

If you wish further details on this estimate, we will be pleased to provide them.

Sincerely,

JAMES L. BLUM
(For Robert D. Reischauer, Director).

CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE COST ESTIMATE

1. Bill number: S.2759.
2. Bill title: Homeless Children Nutrition Improvement Act of 1992.
3. Bill status: As ordered reported by the House Committee on Education and Labor on June 10, 1992.
4. Bill purpose: The bill would authorize a new breast-feeding promotion program and would extend and expand certain child nutrition demonstration projects.
5. Estimated cost to the Federal Government:

² The amount of gift giving and associated outlays under the breast-feeding promotion program cannot be estimated but the difference between the value of gifts received and total outlays for the program is expected to be less than $500,000 in any year.

The costs of this bill fall within budget function 600.

Basis of estimate: Direct Spending and Receipts: Two child nutrition provisions in S. 2759, sections 101 and 202, would affect direct spending. The combined effect of these two provisions is an increase in outlays of $1 million in 1994 and of less than $500,000 in all other years.

Section 101 would amend section 18(c) of the National School Lunch Act to increase the funding levels for demonstration projects to provide food service to homeless children under the age of six in emergency shelter. Funding would be increased from $350,000 in each of fiscal years 1993 and 1994 to $650,000 in fiscal year 1993 and $800,000 in fiscal year 1994. This amendment is estimated to increase direct spending under the child nutrition programs by $300,000 in fiscal year 1993 and $450,000 in fiscal year 1994.

The second provision, section 202, would clarify the measurement of low-income enrollment in for-profit child care centers when determining eligibility for the Child and Adult Care Food Program. CBO estimates that very few centers would be affected and that outlays would increase by $100,000 annually.

Section 201 would affect both direct spending and revenues. The Secretary of Agriculture would be authorized to solicit and accept gifts to be used to fund a breast-feeding promotion program. The magnitude of any gift giving, and thus any result outlays, cannot be estimated. Nevertheless, because the Department of Agriculture anticipates rapid disbursement of any gifts received, the difference between such receipts and outlays is expected to be less than $500,000 in any year.

Authorization of Appropriations: Section 203 would extend a demonstration program that expands the eligibility of for-profit child care centers for the Child and Adult Care Food Program. The demonstration, due to expire on September 30, 1992, would be extended through September 30, 1992, would be extended through September 30, 1994, to the extent, and in such amounts, as are provided for in advance in appropriations acts. Based on recent monthly costs in the two states that operate the demonstration projects, CBO estimates that full funding for an extension would cost close to $3 million annually. The cost estimate assumes full appropriation of these amounts.

Section 301 would extend through fiscal year 1994 a pilot project allowing 60 school districts to receive cash payments or commodity letter of credit in lieu of entitlement commodities for their school lunch programs. This bill would have no direct spending effect because it would not change the level of entitlement spending under the National School Lunch Act. It would, however, increase administrative costs for the Food and Nutrition Service by approximately $120,000 annually. These costs are primarily associated with monitoring and processing the commodity letters of credit in lieu of commodities.

6. Pay-as-you-go considerations: Section 101 and 202 of S. 2759 would increase outlays by one million in 1994 and by less than $500,000 in 1993 and 1995. Section 201 could increase both outlays and receipts in 1993-1995, but CBO cannot estimate the amounts. The net deficit effect of section 201, however, is expected to be less than $500,000 per year for the reason cited above. Because both outlay and receipt effects of section 201 are indeterminate, it is not possible to quantify the total effects of the bill on receipts and outlays.

7. Estimated cost to state and local government: None.

8. Estimate comparison: None.

9. Previous CBO estimate: None.

10. Estimate prepared by: Joshua Leichter and Julia B. Isaacs.

11. Estimate approved by: C.G. Nuckols, Assistant Director for Budget Analysis.

CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE ESTIMATE ¹

The applicable cost estimate of this act for all purposes of sections 252 and 253 of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985 shall be as follows:
